

Privacy Policy

Why we collect information and how we use it

We understand that the privacy of your information is important to you and we respect the confidentiality of the information that you provide to us.

We are bound by current Australian Privacy Legislation including the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) and the 13 Australian Privacy Principles.

Our information handling practices are explained in the Privacy Policy which explains who we are and why we need to collect information when providing our products and services. It also describes how we store information, how you can obtain access to information we hold about you and how you can update or correct information if required. In providing products and services we share information with others.

Our Privacy Statement briefly sets out an outline of how we handle personal information.

Our Privacy Policy sets out the details of how we collect, use, disclose and secure personal information.

Both of these documents are also available free of charge on request.

If you have any privacy related questions, please contact us.
